Objective

I seek organizational development and leadership positions for companies that see the importance in emphasizing its focus on information security across business functions to meet regulatory, public or market expectations. I bring value to the greater good of an organization and strive to do the same for our society in general.

Qualifications

More than 29 years experience in information technology with 19 years focus on developing information security process and practices across various industry organizations. Demonstrated expertise in information security best (necessary) practices. I have proven an executive level of proficiency in risk management across varied industries/risk profiles, project and/or program development, management and leadership.

Related Skills

- Diverse industry security experience
- Broad business Function knowledge
- Team building and leadership
- Training and staff development
- Project management
- Process innovation and improvement
- Performance measurement
- Program development/implementation

Technical Skills

An advanced user of all Microsoft office products, I have over 18 years experience in the evaluation, selection and implementation of the most popular security solutions for all areas of an enterprise. I have built personal relationships with all major security software and service providers and have made myself intimately familiar with their products or services capabilities.

Key Accomplishments

Created and developed overall security strategies, oversight departments, process and/or policy for organizations in markets such as:

- Military (U.S. Navy)
- Corporate Legal
- Corporate Travel
- Telecommunications
- Health Care
- Financial Services/Insurance
- Manufacturing
- Aerospace/Defense

Hired and managed staff, designed and managed budgets and project execution for current state evaluations, recommendations for process improvements, prioritization/budgetary requirements for projects, and security department operations. Proposed and led supporting projects and teams to accommodate comprehensive security capabilities in numerous companies<sup>1</sup>.

Strategized and set direction and policy for corporate initiatives and budget allocation based on business goals and risk profile. Lead the activities of multinational teams of directors, managers and analysts across multiple lines of business for more than one organization. In all cases, my efforts positively affected many companies in their security maturity posture.
